The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your cost will be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Opportunity Fund . . .	$102	$318	$552	$1,225

PORTFOLIO TURNOVER

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual Fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 36.19% of the average value of its portfolio.

PRINCIPAL INVESTMENT STRATEGIES OF THE FUND

The Fund invests primarily in equity securities of small and medium sized companies (those with a market capitalization below $15 billion) that its Adviser believes offer opportunities for capital growth. The Adviser selects companies for the Fund's portfolio using a proprietary approach that blends quantitative and fundamental analysis. The Adviser begins with a quality test, which seeks companies that are judged to have productive capital allocation, a strong competitive position, financial strength, and high-quality earnings. The Adviser then assesses the stocks of those companies, using a multifactor quantitative process that measures valuation, profitability, momentum, earnings quality, growth, credit quality, capital use, and investor sentiment/technical factors. Finally, the Adviser's dedicated sector analysts and generalist product team members use traditional fundamental research to select, from the candidates identified by the above-described qualitative and quantitative analysis, those stocks that the Adviser believes offer the best opportunities for investment. Equity securities include common stock, preferred stocks and exchange traded funds (ETFs) that invest primarily in equity securities.

PRINCIPAL RISKS OF INVESTING IN THE FUND

As with any mutual fund investment, the Fund's returns may vary and you could lose money.

Company Risk – The Fund value might decrease in response to the activities and financial prospects of an individual company.

Market Risk – The Fund value might decrease in response to general market and economic conditions.

Turnover Risk – The Fund may incur greater transaction costs and realized capital gains as a result of higher turnover of securities.

Volatility Risk – Common stocks tend to be more volatile than other investment choices.

Market and Geopolitical Risk – The increasing interconnectivity between global economies and financial markets increases the likelihood that events or conditions in one region or financial market may adversely impact issuers in a different country, region or financial market. Securities in the Fund's portfolio may underperform due to inflation (or expectations for inflation), interest rates, global demand for particular products or resources, natural disasters, pandemics, epidemics, terrorism, regulatory events and governmental or quasi-governmental actions. The occurrence of global events similar to those in recent years may result in market volatility and may have long term effects on both the U.S. and global financial markets. The current novel coronavirus (COVID-19) global pandemic and the aggressive responses taken by many governments, including closing borders, restricting international and domestic travel, and the imposition of prolonged quarantines or similar restrictions, as well as the forced or voluntary closure of, or operational changes to, many retail and other businesses, has had negative impacts, and in many cases severe negative impacts, on markets worldwide. It is not known how long such impacts, or any future impacts of other significant events described above, will or would last, but there could be a prolonged period of global economic slowdown, which may impact your Fund investment.

Management Risk – The Adviser’s judgments about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of particular securities in which the Fund invests may prove to be incorrect and there is no guarantee that the Adviser’s judgment or quantitative model will produce the desired results.

Small and Medium Sized Company Risk – In addition, the stocks of small sized and medium sized companies are subject to certain risks including:

- ◆ Possible dependence on a limited product line, limited financial resources or a limited management group.
- ◆ Less frequent trading and trading with smaller volume than larger stocks, which may make it difficult for the Fund to buy or sell the stocks.
- ◆ Greater fluctuation in value than larger, more established company stocks.

Preferred Stock Risk – Preferred stocks are securities that have characteristics of both common stocks and corporate bonds. Preferred stocks may receive dividends but payment is not guaranteed as with a bond. These securities may be undervalued because of a lack of analyst coverage resulting in a high dividend yield or yield to maturity. The risks of preferred stocks are a lack of voting rights and the Adviser may incorrectly analyze the security, resulting in a loss to the Fund. Furthermore, preferred stock dividends are not guaranteed and management can elect to forego the preferred dividend, resulting in a loss to the Fund.

Risks of Exchange Traded Funds – Investment in an ETF carries security specific risk and market risk. The performance of an ETF may not completely replicate the performance of its underlying index. ETF shares may trade at a premium or discount to their NAV. The Fund will indirectly pay its proportionate share of any fees and expenses paid by the ETF in which it invests in addition to the fees and expenses paid directly by the Fund, many of which may be duplicative. The cost of investing in the Fund will generally be higher than the cost of investing directly in ETFs.
